Gentlemen—I used the ten (10) tons of the Star Phosphate I bought of you last Spring, and it turned out as well, if not better, than either of four different kinds that I used. I am well pleased with it and wish you to reserve me some for next season.
Yours truly,
RUFUS J. IVRY.

We regret to learn that D. W. Bain, the popular and efficient Chief Clerk of the State Treasury, is confined to his residence by sickness. We trust he will be able to resume his duties in a few days.

There has been good fishing in Swift Creek, this county, during the past few weeks, especially at Rand's Mill. The neighborhood dwellers report plenty of red-fins and perch, with fine sport both for hook and net.

In the statement in our travelling correspondence in letter in reference to the amount of business done by the Concord merchants, an error was made. Instead of their selling goods to the amount of $20,000 to $30,000 per year, it should have been stated at from $20,000 to $100,000 annually.

Prof. W. C. Kerr, our State Geologist, lectured on "Coal" last evening to the young ladies of Peace Institute. We were prevented by other engagements from attending, but know from the ability of the lecturer that he handled his subject so well as to excite a warm interest in the topic under discussion.

The Rads of this county held a Convention to-day in the Court-House for the purpose of naming delegates to the Convention, which meets at Warrenton next month, to nominate a candidate for the Solicitorship of this district. Messrs. T. M. Argo and Loge Harris are expected to bloom in all their glory, and a rich time may be expected.

There will be a meeting of the Conservative-Democratic party in Raleigh township in the Court House on the 22nd prox., to elect delegates to the County Convention. The time for holding this Convention will then be announced. This Convention will be for the purpose of selecting delegates to represent this County in the Congressional District Convention.

There are no prisoners now in our jail from this county. Its inmates are one United States prisoner and the two condemned men from Johnston county. Lee Dunlap, who ought to have had his neck broken long ago, is the United States prisoner and Block and Collins are the condemned men from Johnston county. The two latter are to be hung, we believe, on the 22nd of next month. Lee Dunlap, (col.) perpetrated a cold-blooded murder on a white man in Charlotte some three or four years ago and has thus far escaped a richly merited gibbet through the instrumentality of government officials.

THE BOYDEN HOUSE.—Among the many attractions possessed by the good old town of Salisbury is that of an excellent hotel—the Boyden House. It is under the efficient management of Mr. William Rowzee, a hotel manager of large experience, and is well kept in every particular. Its table and appointments are excellent, and the lodgings neat and comfortable. The Boyden House is a well-arranged and well-conducted hotel, and the traveller who seeks rest and refreshment will find his hospital walls may be sure of having all his reasonable wants provided for in a satisfactory manner and at moderate charges.

We clip the following "Episode" from the Carolina Herald. Friend Biggs must take care not to get into as much trouble with Wats as he did with the late Judge Jones:

Council.—"Will your Honor allow two speeches for the prosecution?"

Greasy, (indignant.) "The Supreme Court has permitted such. Go on and 'bleat' as much as you please."

Council.—"General, on with your 'bleating.'"

Solicitor—"I propose to do so, but would state that there is another animal having long ears, that indulges in another kind of music." Sensation.

U. S. COURT FOR THE ALBEMARLE DISTRICT.—The District Court of the United States for the Albemarle District of North Carolina, was opened in Elizabeth City on the 21st day of April, 1874, his Honor, Judge Brooks, presiding.

An able and intelligent Grand Jury was chosen from the centre summoned, with A. S. Jordan, of Perquimans county, as foreman. His Honor then proceeded in an efficient manner to point out to the Jury their powers and duties as grand jurors for the United States and in a lucid manner explained the difference between their duties now and their duties as grand jurors in the State courts. His charge was not only listened to with great attention by the jury, but by the members of the bar and others in attendance upon the court. On account of the absence of the District Attorney, Mr. R. C. Badger, the court took a recess, until Wednesday morning 10 o'clock.

The very little business in this court. This speaks well for the good people of this District.

OLD VERSES.—A few days ago, Major W. H. Bagley, the efficient Clerk of the Supreme Court of the State, in searching among the documents of his office came across the following "effusion." The hand that penned the lines has doubtless long since crumbled into dust, as the paper on which they are written is yellow with age, and the writer tells us that at the time of writing he was on the shady side of fifty. The name of the amorous old beau, or that of the object of his affection, does not appear anywhere in the manuscript. Perhaps all that remains of the beauty, and the love, is a single line in the sonnet of the senile poet, the lying members of the fire and passion of youth, is to be found in some long forgotten grave—a wormy, grinning and disgusting skull!

A MELANCHOLY SONG—TO A SPRIG OF LITTLE LAMB.

O, is it not a pity now,
That I am grown so old,
That time has written on my brow,
A line so deep and bold,
And love was all in all;
And I have lost my youth,
And I have lost my youth,
And I have lost my youth.

Those happy days, so gay and bright
I never can recall,
When beauty was a great delight
And love was all in all;
The spring of life is quickly fled
And I have lost my youth,
And I have lost my youth,
And I have lost my youth.

Yet lady fair, to whom I pour
This light and laughing lay,
If e'er I meet you, do but smile,
The gifts he bore away.
What ever glancing eye may see
And I have lost my youth,
And I have lost my youth,
And I have lost my youth.

Behold embodied in thy ring,
Thy true and faithful love,
Thy fair hand illumined
By the light of love,
So should my heart encircle thee
And thou implanted there
My pure and sparkling gem should 'at be
To light me every where.

ALAMANCE COUNTY.—RECENT RAINS.—CROPS.—GENERAL CHRISTIAN CONVENTION, ETC.—A correspondent writing from Graham, Alamance county, under date of the 21st inst., sends the following:

"The recent rains have washed the lands very badly in many places. The farmers are very much behind with their work."

"The wheat and oats give promise of a golden harvest. Many of the farmers say they never saw the prospect for a good crop of small grain look so well."

"The next quadrennial session of the General Christian Convention will assemble at this place on the 1st proximo. The opening address will be delivered by Rev. W. B. Wellons, of Virginia. A number of delegates and visitors from other States are expected to attend."

"The L. O. G. Templars are doing well in this village. Rev. W. S. Long is W. C. T. of the Lodge in this place. There are two Lodges in Alamance county. All are doing well."

"What about the candidates? Of course we don't know who will be nominated. I feel quite sure of one thing: Alamance will not be for a long time a candidate in either party. I have heard the names of Kerr, Dillard and Ruffin mentioned in connection with the office of Judge and Dr. J. K. Ruffin and J. A. Long for the office of County Clerk."

"Two gentlemen of this county were arrested recently for passing counterfeit money. They were carried before the U. S. Court at Greensboro last week."

COMMITTEE FOR THE ENTERTAINMENT OF THE STATE PRESS.—At a meeting of the members of the press of the city yesterday afternoon the following gentlemen were appointed a Committee of Arrangements for the entertainment of the members of the State Press during the sitting of the Convention in this city next month: Messrs. R. T. Fulghum, of the State Agricultural Journal; John Bragg, Daily Sentinel; E. C. Woodson, Daily Crescent; M. B. Gilbert, Era; R. H. Whitaker, Friend of Temperance; N. B. Broughton, Biblical Recorder; T. B. Kingsbury, Christian Advocate; and S. J. Fall, Spirit of the Age.

On motion, Captain R. T. Fulghum was made Chairman of the Committee.

Every arrangement has been perfected to give our quill brethren a good time during their visit to the City of Oaks, and we shall endeavor to show them that Raleigh is not composed altogether of bricks and mortar, or of giant oaks. The asylums and schools of the city will be visited, and the gentlemen in charge of these institutions may be prepared to be raided upon.

THE PROHIBITION LAW.—As the prohibition law question is now an all-absorbing topic of discussion in our midst, and as we are frequently questioned as to the exact provisions of the law which is to be submitted to the voters of this township for adoption or rejection on the first Monday in next month, we now publish for general information its full text:

"Section 1. The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact, That it shall be the duty of the county commissioners of any county, upon petition of one-fourth of the qualified voters of any township in their respective counties, to order an election to be held on the first Monday in May in every year, to ascertain whether or not spiritual liquors shall or may be sold in said township or townships."

"Section 2. That it shall be the duty of the sheriffs of each county to hold such township elections when so ordered under the same rules and regulations as are prescribed by law for holding elections for members of the General Assembly, so far as the same may be applicable, except as herein modified."

"Section 3. That any person allowed by law to vote for members of the General Assembly shall have the right to vote at such elections in the township in which he is allowed by law to vote, and every such voter who favors the prohibition of the sale of spiritual liquors in his township shall vote a ticket on which shall be written or printed the word 'Prohibition,' and every such voter who favors such sale shall vote a ticket on which shall be written or printed the word 'License.'"

"Section 4. That on the day next after any such election shall be held the inspectors of such election and a justice of the peace of the township shall compare the votes polled in the election, and certify the number of votes cast in favor of 'Prohibition,' and the number in favor of 'License,' and the result of such election to the register of deeds of the county, who shall first carefully copy such certificates in a book to be prepared and kept for that purpose, and then file the same among the papers of his office, and a certified copy from the book in which such certificate is so registered, under the hand of the seal of the county shall be sufficient evidence in all cases and courts in this State of the result of such election, and of the township to which the same may refer."

"Section 5. That if a majority of the votes cast at any such election, in any township, shall have written or printed on the same the word 'Prohibition,' then and in that case it shall not be lawful for the county commissioners to license the sale of spiritual liquors for any person to sell any spiritual liquors within such township, for one year next after any such election, and if any person so prohibited shall sell any spiritual liquors within such township, such person offending shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction of such offence shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding one month, but if a majority of the votes so cast shall have written or printed on the same the word 'License,' then spiritual liquors may be sold in such townships as now provided by law, and not otherwise: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall affect localities in which the sale of spiritual liquors is prohibited by law."

"Sec. 6. The sheriff shall designate the Justice of the Peace in each township to aid in comparing and certifying the vote cast at any such election, and the register of deeds shall designate the inspectors of elections in each township; in case he fail the sheriff or his deputies shall make such appointments; and if any officer or other person shall fail to discharge any duty imposed by this act, such officer or person shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and on conviction in the Superior Court, fined in the discretion of the court."

MILITARY—VOLUNTEER COMPANY FORMED.—It was announced through the columns of the News some week or more ago that there was a movement on foot to organize a volunteer company in Wake county. The object of the move have been at work for some time, and we are happy to be able to say that they organized yesterday by electing W. R. Cox, Captain; B. C. Manly, for one year next after any such election, and if any person so prohibited shall sell any spiritual liquors within such township, such person offending shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction of such offence shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding one month, but if a majority of the votes so cast shall have written or printed on the same the word 'License,' then spiritual liquors may be sold in such townships as now provided by law, and not otherwise: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall affect localities in which the sale of spiritual liquors is prohibited by law."

THE DAILY NEWS.

SATURDAY, APRIL 25, 1874.

JORDAN STONE, Managing Editor.

ELECTION AUGUST 6th, 1874.

FOR SUP'T OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

C. L. STEPHEN D. POOL, OF CRAVEN.

The Daily News is now the only paper in Raleigh that gives every morning the latest markets and other telegraphic reports. The public should note this fact.

The Sixth Judicial District.

The members of the Democratic Executive Committee for the Sixth Judicial District are requested to meet in Raleigh on Tuesday, the 24 day of June, 1874.

C. M. COOKE, Chm'n.

"RESOLVED, That we earnestly recommend to the members of the Democratic-Conservative party to discourage independent candidates and all other disorganizers, and that all support be promptly withdrawn from every aspirant for office who shall oppose the regular nominees of our conventions."—Resolution adopted by Democratic-Conservative State Executive Committee.

The Virginia Legislature adjourns next Thursday, that being the longest time allowed by law for the continuance of its session, and—the Virginia editors are happy.

Messrs. SKINNER & QUINCEY having purchased the Henderson Tribune from Mr. J. A. HARRELL, have commenced the publication of The Register as the successor of The Tribune. They pledge themselves to labor for the best interests of the State, and we welcome them into the corps editorial of the State.

The Richmond Enquirer says that ex-Governor HOLDEN has been nominated for the Mayoralty of Raleigh, and does not wonder that Bald Mountain continues to grumble. A slight mistake, neighbor; it is his son JOSEPH, but we see none the less cause for old Bald's internal manifestations.

The Memphis Appeal, a paper that, from its location ought to have a good insight into Arkansas affairs, is strongly opposed to RROOKS. It says: "BAXTER may not have been fairly elected Governor, but he fairly won a title to the office by his wise and just execution of the laws. Brooks is a madman; a crazed zealot; a raging revivalist in politics and in the pulpit. He is a very devil when unchurched, and he fell further when he fell from grace into the pit of politics than Belial when kicked out of heaven into kingdom-come."

The President's veto of the finance bill was received in the North and East with great rejoicing, in some places by the firing of cannon; Boston was extremely jubilant and Wall street went into ecstasies. But in the West it was differently, for there, as in the South, the want of more money, with which to transact the ordinary business of these sections is most seriously felt. The action of the President is characterized by many of the leading Administration politicians in Washington, who strongly supported the bill, as a false step to say the least, and based upon false principles. The friends of the bill commend the action as a wise and prudent one. The bill and the President's message have been laid on the table of the Senate until next week, when is possible the whole financial discussion will be reported, and this may cause Congress to remain in session until late in the Summer.

The Richmond (Va.) Dispatch chafes under the difficulties the friends of the proposed change of gauge of the Richmond and Danville road find in getting through their desired measure, and goes fretfully after those who prevented the change of gauge of the N. C. Railroad from Greensboro to Charlotte in order to conform the gauge of that road with the Richmond and Danville line. It says that when the Richmond and Danville line succeeded in leasing the North Carolina road it was thought there was an end to trouble, and that the gauge between Greensboro and Charlotte would be changed. It says the injunction to prevent this end was not gotten out by North Carolinians, but by corporations of Virginia and other States. The Dispatch then lets fly its shafts at all the active opponents of the Richmond and Danville road who seek to obstruct its business by continuing the breaks which it encounters at either end in consequence of its broad gauge. Says the Dispatch:

"If the injunctions are removed they will change the gauge of the North Carolina road, and give to Richmond a five-foot gauge to the Gulf. If those who have enjoined this change, and who are now opposing the granting of the proposed authority for a change of the gauge of the Danville road, desire in sincerity and in heart to promote the welfare of Virginia, let them take off their injunction."

We have no objection to the Danville road, or Richmond, or Virginia, bettering their several conditions; but in all the discussion arising upon this subject, and although North Carolina is materially interested in so far as one of her principal railroad lines forms a portion of the great through line over which the contest is made, we do not see that the welfare of this State, or of her railroad interests, are ever considered at all. Has North Carolina no interest in the matter?

THE Oxford Herald, in raising the name of Col. S. D. POOL, for the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction, says of him:

"Thoroughly identified with the best interests of the State, and fully qualified by former experience, he cannot fail, if elected, to give new impetus to our educational interests, now, thanks to radicalism, at such a low ebb."

THE Granville county Conservative Convention, held in Oxford on Tuesday, was a large and enthusiastic meeting. Dr. JAS. GAY presided over the meeting. Six delegates were appointed from each Township to represent the county in the Congressional and Judicial District Conventions to be held in this city on the 2nd of June next. Addresses were made by Gen. W. R. COX, Capt. JOSEPH DAVIS and Col. J. S. AMIS. The delegates were not instructed as to who they should vote for in the Congressional Convention.

THE Philadelphia Press of last Sunday published a lengthy notice of the cremating in that city of a son of a physician, being a highly interesting romance, and as it struck upon a subject that is being largely discussed at present, the story was telegraphed abroad, generally believed, and the Press article largely copied. But it now turns out that the whole thing was a hoax of the first water. The Press says it perpetrated the joke, but the papers that have been sold by republishing the article think the Press was sold also, or that to say it was a harmless joke is a very poor apology for a well told lie.

CAPT. R. A. SHOTWELL, the Associate Editor of the Southern Home, has "written a piece" to Gov. TOB R. CALDWELL which is somewhat caustic in its nature. The Governor was made honorary member of the Platonic Society of Rutherford College, and accepted. Subsequently he discovered that Capt. SHOTWELL was honorary member of the same Society, whereupon he indignantly withdrew his membership upon the ground that he would not affiliate with a Ku-Klux. Capt. SHOTWELL replies to this in a letter published in the Home, in which he reminds the Governor of some of his acts in the days that are past, and of some slight mistakes the Governor made a few years back—for instance his advising in 1861 the young men of the State "to fight to the bitter end, to hurl back the ruthless invader, and to slay the last Yankee as though he were a black snake," and yet that he only did this "to get the secessionists killed off."

And as the Governor was then saying what he did not mean, SHOTWELL cannot believe the Governor is now in earnest, and thinks that when the young men comprising this Society shall have acquired votes, he will be ready to discover that he did not mean this action. Capt. SHOTWELL says in conclusion:

"Permit me to urge your Excellency to abandon the League and other bad company, to cultivate decency and good manners, truth, candor and self-respect, to cease to insult gentlemen unless you intend to give them satisfaction, and to endeavor to keep from making yourself the object of contempt and ridicule throughout the State."

The Press on the President's Veto.

The Baltimore Gazette, alluding to the President's veto of the finance measure, says of him:

"Can it be that he has been warned by the tone and temper of the most influential members of his party outside of politics that they are prepared to make the financial question the great issue henceforth, and to join hands with all who are willing to cooperate with them in bringing about a change of administration? What ever may be the cause of this abandonment of the men whose pernicious course he has so often followed, we are disposed to accept it, and his renunciation of their advice in this matter, with the thankfulness that a wise and just action merits. The message, too, covering the veto and vindicating it, is a most remarkable document, and deserves unqualified praise for the soundness of the principles it enunciates. It is laudable, moreover, for another and a very different reason. It is a repudiation of the earlier doctrine held by General Grant, that the best way to secure the reversal of a bad law is to accept it and execute it rigorously. It is an assurance that, so far as it lies within his power, good faith will be kept with the public creditor and a return to specie payments promoted."

The Index-Appeal, of Petersburg, Va., says of the veto:

"We regret our very injurious effects from President Grant's veto of the inflation bill. On the other hand, we consider the course he has decided on taking the wisest, perhaps, that could have been followed under all the circumstances of the case. And yet, we have been advocates of inflation as the remedy proper to be applied to cure the financial evils under which the country has groaned and labored since the great panic of last September. These positions, we take it, are not inconsistent. There was great good admittedly accomplished by Secretary Richardson's secret issue of the reserves at the time of the panic; which, in the language of Harper's Weekly, "by the construction of a violent law in favor of his own power, saved the government from loss and the country from disaster." The same beneficial results would have attended the application of the same policy during the still prevalent period of stringency, if its operation could have gone on without impairing the confidence of the moneyed classes, and exciting violent agitation between the sections so differently interested. But the introduction of the proposition in Congress, while necessary of course, has been followed by a discussion wherein such threats and intimidations and such violent intemperance were exchanged, that the remedy which might have been good if swiftly employed, has lost by delay and still more by agitation the virtue it would have undoubtedly first possessed. The fight having been begun, however, the South and West had no alternative than to follow their logic and claims out to the ultimate issue of the consequences, and hence they forced the proposed inflation, asserting their power when united over the power of the East and of New England. And that the President has vetoed the bill, does not change the matter. He cannot undo the great victory of the combined South and West; he can at most only rescue from them the fruits of it which would not have been very valuable after the detention of such "perishable freight" so long on its journey. Perhaps he has saved them from injuring themselves by eating of the same stale fruit which would have refreshed and invigorated them if eaten discreetly six months ago."

Says the Richmond Enquirer:

"The President has vetoed the finance bill, from which the masses of the people, the business men of the community, and especially of the West and South had hoped to derive great advantage to all their industrial interests."

"Whatever may be the reasons of the President for exercising the veto in this instance, it is evident that he has run counter to the wants and wishes of the working classes of the country. The money kings of the North are, of course, highly pleased. They have the satisfaction of seeing the great measure which they have so assiduously opposed, crushed out by its veto after its passage by Congress. And now, with the reins in their own hands, they are happy again after their late trepidation. But let the people take courage, and work on as best they may under their embarrassments, the currency question will be a salient issue in the next national election."

Just as chignons are going out of fashion a material has been discovered which might be used profitably in their manufacture. A dwarf palm which grows in Algiers, Africa, and on the Isthmus of Panama, has leaves, the fibres of which when dried, black, twisted and curled, resemble horse hair. There is no reason why they should not be used for wigs. How much more satisfactory to wear a vegetable wig than the hair of some person who may have long ago been cremated.

Governor Brooks, of Arkansas, is a native of Butler county, Ohio, near Hamilton, serving as a Methodist preacher in the Ohio Conference nine years. Thence he went to the Iowa Conference, and was afterward elected editor of the St. Louis Central Christian Advocate. He was then a decided anti-slavery man. He was presiding elder of the Arkansas Conference a short time previous to the coup d'etat now convulsing the State of Arkansas.

A letter from California says, this year, there will be produced there 12,000,000 gallons of wine, 2,000,000 pounds of grapes for table use, and 20,000 pounds of raisins, besides the brandy, of which we have no statistics; 40,000 acres are in vineyards and the area is constantly increasing.

Jno. G. Whittier, who received one vote in the Senatorial election in Massachusetts, congratulates himself that his party did not split, but voted like one man to the last.

One of the New York spring bonnets has a ball of ice hanging at the back, and the ladies said the one couldn't find any other place for it.

The Conservatives of New Hanover county met on Wednesday in Wilmington, and appointed delegates to the Judicial and Congressional nominating Conventions.

The following is gleaned from the Lumberton Reubenian:

"On the 10th instant Bryan Oxendine shot his wife under the following circumstances: Bryan, who seems to be a vendor of whiskey on a small scale, ordered his wife to measure a pint of the benzine for a customer. On her return from this service he asked her if she obtained the requisite collateral. She replied that that was his (Bryan's) business and not hers—she having performed her duty in measuring the liquor. Upon which the amiable Bryan, being himself, we suppose, well charged with the benzine, deliberately took down his gun from the rack and fired on his wife, driving the whole charge of duck shot, wadding and all, into the right breast, at the juncture of the arm. Grave doubts are entertained of her recovery. Bryan is a brother-in-law of the late Henry B. Lowry.

"On the 16th instant, James Dial, who was but recently acquitted of the murder of Floyd Oxendine, with his brother, Marcus Dial, was engaged in gleaning fish from some mill dam in Scotlandtown, when they were fired at from an ambush by parties unknown, wounding both of them severely. We learn the wounds of Jim Dial are serious, the charge having entered the side of his face, driving two or three of his teeth down his throat—he is also shot in the shoulder.

The Flood.

Official telegrams from New Orleans state that the whole country from the mouth of the Red river is almost under water, and ten thousand people in that district will soon be on the verge of starvation. Large numbers of colored people from the overland district are flocking to New Orleans. Governor Kellogg has issued a proclamation to the officials and citizens of the overland district, assuring them that the State government has done and is doing all its resources allow to alleviate the suffering. Information received from Yazoo, Miss., says the water is so high that no planting can be done in the Valley of the Yazoo. The weather is clear and the river is falling perceptibly. If the fall continues a moderate crop will be made. The crop in the hills has also been greatly retarded by the continuous rains, but if the present weather continues an average crop will be made.

DISPERATE AND FATAL DUEL BETWEEN TWO GIRLS.—It is related that two girls in the Royal tobacco factory at Madrid recently killed each other in a hand to hand contest. The note adopted by the combatants was as romantic as it was barbarous. The antagonists, who were both about twenty years old, and remarkably handsome, repaired one Sunday morning, accompanied by certain of their comrades, to a village some four or five miles distant, where they breakfasted sumptuously at different tables. The feast ended, they closed the window curtains, stripped themselves of their waists, and requested their friends to leave the room. Then, at a given signal, they attacked each other and thrust into both fell to the floor mortally wounded. When a few minutes had elapsed their friends re-entered the room. Estefania, one of the combatants, had received ten wounds, from which she bled to death in about half an hour. Casilda, her antagonist, died somewhat sooner from a ghastly wound in the neck.

An escaped convict from the Virginia penitentiary, who had been captured and was being conveyed back to his prison, jumped through the car windows since, whilst the train was moving at the rate of thirty miles an hour. The convict's hands were tied and his feet shackled at the time. The train stopped and put the guard off, but did not await the result of the search for the daring rascal.

Money is being contributed in various cities for the relief of the Louisiana sufferers. The amount raised in Boston already amounts to four thousand dollars. In New York it will be much larger, and in those cities which are situated on the Mississippi and Ohio there is every prospect that it will be generous.

Gen. Hood is preparing a reply to such portions of Gen. Johnston's book as reflect upon his military career. The reply will appear as a series of newspaper articles in the New Orleans journals, and afterward it will be put in pamphlet form.

FERTILIZERS.

G. T. STRONACH, W. C. STRONACH, A. B. STRONACH.

UNDER THE NAME AND STYLE OF STRONACH BROS.

We offer for sale as successors to G. T. STRONACH & BROS. in Guano the celebrated

Sea Fowl and Bradley's Super Phosphate.

We append a list of Farmers who have used the above mentioned Guano during the past season. We certify that no objections have been raised so far to either of the above Guanos. And we guarantee each fertilizer to come up to the analysis required by law. We, in common with Mr. Bradley, believe the new law passed by the General Assembly of North Carolina, as a protective law for the farmers of the State of North Carolina, to be a desirable law, and one which we have desired, to prevent fraud. The Fertilizers which we sell are guaranteed to come up to the analysis standard. We advise our farming community to use

SEA FOWL AND BRADLEY'S SUPER PHOSPHATE.

They have stood the test of years and have no equal.

WHANN'S RAW BONE SUPER PHOSPHATE.

The unexampled success of this renowned manure during many years, has for a reputation which few other fertilizers can claim. Its sales are very extensive parts of the country, especially in those parts of the South where cotton and corn are largely grown. So decided and positive have been its results on these important staples, that in many sections it is preferred to all other manures.

Whann's Raw Bone Super Phosphate

prompt and active in its effects. It starts the young plant vigorously, and by furnishing a steady supply of nutriment during the period of its growth, brings the crop to a healthy maturity in time to escape the ravages of early frosts.

We offer this well-known fertilizer to our friends, confident that they will concur in the opinion of the leading planters of the South, that for Cotton and Corn it is unequalled.

We also make COTTON PRESSES not excelled by any other.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.
FROM WASHINGTON.
Congressional Proceedings.—The South Carolina Matter.
WASHINGTON, April 24th.—The Cabinet meeting considered the Arkansas matter. No action. (The Attorney General has decided that where a contractor to carry mails abandoned his contract, the Postmaster General could not relet the route without advertisement.)
HOUSE.—Among the executive communications one regarding Mrs. Maria Clark Gaines in regard to claims to public lands. The legislative appropriation bill occupied the balance of the day.
THE HOUSE SUB-JUDICIARY COMMITTEE held a public session today on the South Carolina matter, and postponed the final action till next Monday. The subject of the Tax-Payers memorial excites the grave consideration of the Sub-Committee who will report in conformity with the magnitude of the interests deemed to be involved. The influence brought by the arguments of the Tax-Payers is felt in government circles outside of the Judiciary Committee, and is daily growing more potent, as is evidenced by the gravity with which the subject is being considered. It is noticeable that a disposition to sift the complaints of the memorandums and answers of State officials very closely accumulates in force every time the subject comes up for consideration, though the solution remains involved in apparently impenetrable obscurity. Honest sympathy and so far as possible, co-operation of right thinking people in authority here seems to be going out towards the oppressed victims of misrule, not only in South Carolina but other sections of the South.
SENATE.—The Senate passed the bill amendatory of an act to provide internal revenue to support the government and for other purposes, applied June 30th, 1864. This bill provides that no legal document or paper required by law to be stamped, which was made, signed or issued in the Southern States prior to the first of July, 1863, shall be deemed valid, held as valid and of no effect by reason of the failure to impose thereon the required stamp.
CONVENER OF FLORIDA, introduced a bill for relief of James Atkins, late collector of Internal Revenue in the fourth District of Georgia. Referred to the Finance Committee.
